NICE PEOPLE AND GOOD WILL

PROGRAM 2025

MONDAY-SUNDAY 10:00-00:00

LA TURN FAMILY

On our faces we see the traces of history and we proudly say that we are the children of a place that has aged beautifully. Neighboring with us, the lofty Council Tower has witnessed both warm smiles and tears that have fallen on our faces. We try to carry the story forward, to adapt to a society that maintains its alert step towards change... We have both old and new, because we take into account the roots we have, but we look with dreams in our souls to the branches that grow for us. To evolve among people

We want nice!

NICE PEOPLE

And then Sibiu, our dear guest, is old and full of stories, wearing the elegant clothes of a bourgeoisie preparing for sleep. The surroundings of the city bear living proof that this place has united man and nature. You will find craftsmen here in the art of wine, bread, good sheep's cheese, not to mention the good zacusca from Năucet and how many others there are. FAINOȘAG! Ethnic groups including Saxons, Hungarians, Aromanians, Roma, all have beautifully colored or, better said, put a letter in the city's business card. Shall I add a cherry?

A WHOLE EXPERIENCE!

The restaurant has the most beautiful view in Sibiu

Salad of eggplant

The most beloved Romanian culinary specialty full of flavors!

Something to serve for starters!

Located in the heart of the city, La Turn is a historical emblem of Sibiu tourism. It is individualized by its modern design, but also by the historical elements that are reflected in the location.

Young hearts, in an old place, that's how we would describe ourselves now. The interior of the restaurant protects like a jewel in its wooden box a portal that comes from the 17th century.

Under the erosive action of time, stories leak away, leaving behind the evidence that nothing is ephemeral, neither man nor his creation. First we breathe in the old smell of books and bon ton, then we let our imagination take its natural course, giving our guests the opportunity to listen to our story. Our role in the kitchen is to give nature its due, namely the credit for its extraordinary skill in feeding us.

About the truffle chicken, how can we tell you that we cook it?

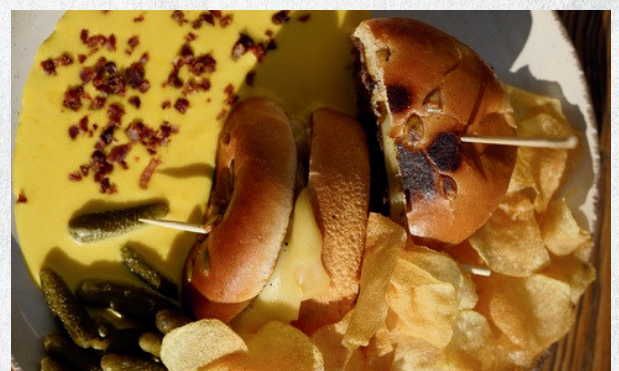

No, wait, let me tell you how tender it can be. Great! We take the chicken, a nice boneless breast, and season it a little with salt and pepper. To give it a noble taste, we put it in a bag with green sprigs of thyme and a dash of good butter, a little fatty so that it takes on good flavors. Cook with it for 3 hours. Then, we make mashed potatoes on a hot fire, make a truffle sauce from cream, mixed with other forest fruits, a little good blue cheese, and some dry white wine.

I'd tell you more, but it's not nice to talk with your mouth full.

Enjoy your meal!

You won't be able to see them as my eyes flood them, but you will be able to see how passion comes to life, translating the emotion it is made of into tastes and aromas.

We know how to make dishes, old and new, and various drinks, sweeter, stronger, more for ladies or men as hard as stone. Shall we give you a SHEPHERD? Those old people didn't have much time to prepare food. There was a field to plow and a furrow to gather quickly because the weather didn't favor any lady in the village. They lived in close proximity to nature, with man, with animal and harvest, as we, rarely have the opportunity to understand life. And then the good food was for feasts, for families, friends, holidays. How can we tell you that we make this Shepherd's stew without making you hungry?

We dip a piece of bread in the egg and fry it. From good sheepskin, from real sheep, we knead some croquettes, roll them in good breadcrumbs, fry them on high heat and quickly start frying a piece of veal. That's why it's good to let it sit until tender and then the potatoes....slowly cooked with thyme and salt. I won't tell you anymore!

What times, what stories!
Grandparents once said that you're not a homeowner if you don't have a pig in the yard. I'm talking about pork, not other wonders. And then we wouldn't be homeowners if we made some ribs, over there in the big oven? We went to drink a brandy and forgot about them, actually that's how we wanted them to turn out. Over low heat, with smoked paprika and a barbecue sauce. We browned pork legs, potatoes from our own garden and added a sprig of rosemary. It smells so good, that tourists come to the Market Square to see where the baiu is!

DRINKS PAGE 2-5

FOOD PAGE 8-11

I specifically put this discrepancy between the words, sometimes new, sometimes old because this is also seen in the kitchen. New techniques or preparations with deep roots in the Transylvanian area. We use the sous-vide technique, to cook healthy tender and full of flavor. Many of our meats are cooked slowly, this is so that we can bring out the best in them, to give them the opportunity to be the main characters in the stories we tell. We do not use additives or enhancers of tastes and aromas, nor do we stabilize sauces, creams and other preparations with powders or "magic formulas". This way of cooking under water at controlled temperatures and in very good hygiene conditions, is not at all new, but rather has its origins in France, places where it has long been the cradle of modern cuisine. Gastronomy has broken many barriers and traveled without a passport to many corners of the world, hence the influences that you find in menus, tastes, dishes, and their preparation techniques. We all put our bones to work to get the best. As we know how.
